

Ensuring the Great Lakes Are Healthy, Public, and Protected for All

Law and Policy Intern Summer 2023

FLOW (For Love of Water) is a Great Lakes law and policy center based in Traverse City, Michigan, and operates as an independent, non-partisan, 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. FLOW acts to protect 20% of the planet's surface freshwater for the benefit of all by educating and engaging citizens to advance cutting-edge public trust policy solutions. Through our targeted policy initiatives and multi-media communications, FLOW has built key partnerships with state-level and regional environmental groups and leveraged our expertise to influence agencies and impact state and federal legislation. We are a trusted source of current information for citizens and decision-makers on issues affecting the Great Lakes, groundwater, and drinking water.

Position Summary: We are looking for a Law & Policy Intern for the Summer of 2023. This is a great opportunity to learn about various law and policy issues affecting the Great Lakes while honing legal research, writing, and case-development skills. The position will be supervised by FLOW's Legal Director.

Qualifications: FLOW seeks a rising third-year law student, but we will also consider dynamic applicants that have completed at least one year of law school. The applicant for this position must have good judgment, outstanding legal research and writing skills, and a demonstrated interest in environmental policy, legislation, and law. It is imperative that the applicant have the ability to work independently within a team construct.

Details: The Law and Policy Intern will work 40 hours a week during 12 weeks from approximately May to August for a stipend totaling $9,000. Applicants who need additional income are strongly encouraged to seek supplemental sponsorship funds. The selected applicant will have the choice of working at FLOW's office in Traverse City, Michigan, or remotely; a housing stipend is not available.

FLOW is committed to fostering, cultivating, and preserving a diverse and inclusive workplace, and seeks a wide range of perspectives and backgrounds. FLOW is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate in employment, promotion, compensation, or other terms and conditions of employment on the basis of race, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, color, religion, national origin or ancestry, age, marital status, disability, veteran status, or any other basis prohibited by applicable law. FLOW encourages all qualified candidates to apply!

To apply, please email your résumé and cover letter to info@flowforwater.org using the subject line, "Law & Policy Intern." Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. For further information about FLOW, please visit www.ForLoveOfWater.org.
